We created this "cheat sheet" to make things easier!

A lot of our customers message us and our coaches for recommendations on what to eat at their favorite restaurants, like Chili's, Cheesecake Factory, and Olive Garden.

So we put together this guide that breaks down the top 5 healthiest options on their menus!

The good news is there ARE several healthier choices available at all of these restaurants.

TIPS FOR KEEPING IT HEALTHY WHEN EATING OUT

Whether you're going out to eat for a special occasion or just enjoy eating out a few days a week, we know it's not always easy to make the healthiest choices.

Being prepared is one of the best things you can do to keep yourself on track – especially when you get questions from family and friends about why you're not eating certain foods and dishes.

Here are some tips and guidelines for making the most of your dining experience while you're on your fitness journey:

Check out the menu ahead of time! We've included links to each restaurant's nutrition facts for all their menu items in this guide to help you with this part. We've also highlighted a few of their healthiest dishes so you have an idea of what you can order with ease. Take your time to browse the menu before you go out so you know what you're going to order (and aren't swayed by others!)

Let friends and family know eating healthy is important to you. Social pressure can make it difficult to stay on track. When everyone is ordering tasty appetizers and ignoring portions, you might feel awkward being the only one eating a smaller portion or ordering something nobody else is ordering. Don't be! If anybody asks (most people won't care), you can let them know about your goals. But just remember, YOU get to decide what you want to eat on any given day. Try not to let other people influence your choices.

Eat mindfully. It's easy to get caught up in a celebration or even a good conversation when you're eating out. But if you take the time to pause, savor your food, and really pay attention to how the food tastes, you'll not only end up feeling more satisfied but might also find you're truly enjoying the meal – no matter what it is!

Cut your meal in half. Most restaurants serve oversized portions. Once you have an idea of what the nutrition facts are for the dish you've been eyeing, consider if you could cut that in half and meet your macros goals! Remember you can always take the rest home and turn that into another meal.

Eat before you go out. This sounds a little counterintuitive but one of the best ways to prevent overeating at a restaurant is to eat something healthy before you eat that main meal. A high protein or high fat snack about 1-2 hours before meal time can help you keep hunger in check.
